

Sushi 1

www.nodusrug.it

Many of us are familiar with the Sushi chairs by Brazilian designers Fernando and Humberto Campana. Now, the brothers are translating the concept into cool carpets for edgy Italian carpet maker Nodus. The Indian-made hand-tufted woollen Sushi 1 rug comes in a rainbow of bright colours, and it can be custom-sized.

Keep

Muuto discovered Petter Thörne and Anders Johnsson when they won the brand's 2009 Talent Award for design students. The Finnish design duo have since gone on to do great things, including the beautiful, simple Keep table, which is made from furniture production leftover materials.

Lama

Ludovica and Roberto Palomba have revisited their 2006 Lama lounge design this year. But, whereas the old version came upholstered in cowhide, the new one explores the potential of plastic to create a chair that can be used in various ways. Featuring woven PVC thread, the Lama in its new guise works outside as well as in; and its silhouette is even more striking than ever.
